HON. HANNIBAL HAMLIN. Boston, Jan 17, 1861.

To the Editor of the Boston Journal:

Your correspondent, "Frank," in writing from Pembroke, Massachusetts, and referring trom Pembroke, Massachusetts, and referring to the Hamlin family, is mistaken in one or two particulars, which I beg leave to correct. Eleazer Hamlin, the grandfather of the Vice President elect, was born in Pembroke, where he resided till 1778, when he removed to Harvard, and from thence to Westford in 1794, where he died at the age of 75 years. He had seventhen children, whose names are now before me. His second wife had two young children when he married her, and these, added to his own, which in process of time were increased to seven which in process of time were increased to seventeen, made the convenient and comfortable family of nineteen children.

The size of his family was a fair specimen of the man socially, as a farmer, and in political life. Physically, he was large and powerful, with a mind of great vigor and strength, though somewhat rough and uncultivated. He took a leading part in arousing his townsmen, and preparing for the revolutionary war; was a member of the Committee of Safety, and entered the army as a captain. He served three tered the army as a captain. He served three years, a part of the time at least, under Washington, who, for brave and meritorious conduct promoted him to the rank of major. Having spent much time and property in the revolu-tionary cause, his large and increasing family compelled him to resign his commission, and devote his attention to his select company of young recruits at home. In accepting his resignation, General Washington expressed his regret that it was necessary for him to leave a cause he so much loved, complimented him for his conduct, and made him a present of two hundred dollars of continental money, in doing which the General might have said, "silver I thee." Revolutionary money, however, was more valuable than secession bonds. After the war, Mr. Hamlin was captain of a military company, of which five of his sons were members at the same time. He was a great reader of history and biography of mili-tary men. He named four of his sons after the four continents of the globe, viz: Asia, Africa, Europe, and America. These names are on the record before me, and also the names of Eleazer, Cyrus and Hannibal, (twins,) Isaac, Green and George.

Major Hamlin owned large tracts of land in Major Hamlin owned large tracts of land in the then District of Maine, and offered a lot to such of his sons as were disposed to occupy them as farms. Africa, America, Eleazer, and Hannibal, accepted the offer, and removed to Waterford, Maine, where they were known through their lives as active, leading men. In the course of his travels, Cyrus, who was a well-educated physician, met with something more valuable and attractive than any lot of land in the gift of his father. In the town of Livermore, he became acquainted with Miss Anna Livermore, daughter of Deacon Elijah Livermore, married her December 14, 1797, entered upon the practice of his profession, and was widely known and beloved in his personal and professional character. In 1805 he removed to Paris, where, in addition to his medical practo Paris, where, in addition to his medical practo Paris, where, in addition to his medical prac-tice, he held successively the offices of clerk of the courts, and sheriff of Oxford county. Dr. Hamlin was a gentleman of distinguished ex-cellences in all the varied relations of his life. Those who have been in his family, or met him in his professional or business capacity, can-not have forgotten his cordial, genial manner, and constant flow of humor.

Two of Dr. Hamlin's sons survive—Hon. Elijah L. Hamlin of Bangor Maine, and Hon. Hannibal Hamlin of Hampden, Vice Presi-

Having recently visited the last named gen tleman, and as he is now a national man, (and never was a sectional one,) I may be excused never was a sectional one, I may be excused for saying that he is not less beloved and honored in private than in public life. He is an exception to a general rule. For more than twenty years a prominent leader in political life, he has lived strictly within his income, and has accumulated a property. w in a large city, is large in a small town. He carries his broad and liberal views into the small transactions of life. As a public man possesses, in an eminent degree, that faculty which enables one to form a correct opinion of the future from past and passing events. He has never lost an election.

The ancestry of our Vice President elect can be traced back through many generations. On the maternal side he claims kindred with the Livermore families of Watertown and Cambridge, long known and honored in Massach

The Hamlin name is found on our colonial records as early as 1645, and the line of descent has been traced from France through England to our own State. In France, the name was spelled Hameline, and occurs frequently in the history of the Huguenots. Per-secution drove several families of them to England, where they dropped the two e's—hence the English name Hamlin. The name is still well known in France. Admiral Hameline, of the Crimean war, is a descendant of the same

It will be seen, by these statements, that the ridiculous story that our Vice President elect has negro blood in his veins is simply a secesdander. It is, however, a fair specimen of Southern intelligence and truthfulnes. H.

PIETY AND PATRIOTISM .- A singular scene was enacted on Sunday evening, says the Phil adelphia Bulletin, at the Green street M. E. Church. The regular annual collection in aid of the funds of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church was being taken up, and a number of prominent members of the church had been elected life members, the amount necessary for that purpose having been subscribed. Finally, a gentleman arose in the gallery, and after speaking of the proper asso-ciation of piety and patriotism, he stated that the members of the choir contributed twenty dollars for the purpose of making the gallant Major Anderson a life member of the Missionary Society. This announcement caused a sen-sation which had not subsided when the same gentleman again arose and stated that the ladies of the choir desired to contribute twenty dollars to make Mrs. Major Anderson a member of the Society. He afterwards stated that the choir would give a like amount to make Lieutenant General Winfield Scott a life member, and subsequently he said that as Mr. Buchanan had lately given evidence of a disposition to do his duty to the Constitution and the Union, they would also contribute the amount necessary create him a life member.

The feeling thus started in the choir nowex The feeling thus started in the choir now ex-tended to the body of the church. One lady began a subscription to make Governor Hicks, of Maryland, a life member; another contribu-tion towards the amount necessary to make President Lincoln a member, and a gentleman In the congregation proposed the same com-pliment to Hon. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia. The secession spirit was at a dead discount among the congregation, for there was not a dissenting voice to these unusual proceedings.

For the National Republican.

BALEFUL INFLUENCE OF SECESSION. The brutalizing power of this species of re-bellion was strikingly and most deplorably dis-played in those fiendish articles which appeared in the Charleston Mercury and Charleston Courier last month, gloating over anticipated distress and starvation during the coming winter, of the laboring classes at the North. The heart of humanity recoils with horror at such exultations, and while we impute such atrocities solely to the insanity of secession, we are happy to record the utter failure of these barhappy to record the utter failure of these bar-barous predictions, in the reported general wel-fare of all classes at the North. The reports of the savings banks of New York and Massa-chusetts show a large increase of deposits over any preceding year, and a most healthy condi-tion. The crowning act, however, of diabolicity and world-wide contempt and dishonor on the part of South Carolina, is the extinction of the lights at the lighthouses on her coast; an act which will inevitably bring upon her the exe-cration of every nation and individual on the face of the earth, except a mad secessionist.

At a wedding near Springfield, when the clergyman stretched forth his hand to implore a blessing, the bridegroom, thinking it was the signal for him to surrender the wedding fee, which was burning in his pocket, clapped two half dollars in the minister's hand just as be was closing his eyes in prayer. The good man hesitated a moment, appalled at the ludicrousness of his situation, but coolly depositing the money in his pocket, proceeded with his devotion. Clergymen, like other good Christians, seldom lose their presence of mind when there is money about is money about.

AN OUTRAGE.-While the salute of one hun-AN OUTRAGE.—While the salute of one hundred guns was being fired in Newport yesterday, in honor of that gallant Kentuckian, Major Anderson, Dr. Foster, the Postmaster of the town, cut the rope by which the Union flag was about being run up, and dragged the flag in the mud. It is asserted by some, that he trampled upon it, making the remark, that "That d — d flag could not fly over Southern soil." Strange to relate, he escaped without soil." Strange to relate, he escaped without the chastisement he so richly merited. The indignation of the Union men of Newport is

PROSPECTUS OF THE WEEKLY NATIONAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., December, 1860.

The undersigned have commenced the publica-tion, in this city, of a weekly newspaper, called the National Republican.

It is printed on a large sheet, 27 by 42 inches, and is turnished at the low prices stated below.

It will contain all the original matter of the daily National Republican, with the execution of daily National Republican, with the exception of daily National Republican, with the exception of local news not interesting to country subscribers. It will give full reports of the proceedings of Congress, and of the other departments of the National Government. It will contain all the news of the day, foreign and domestic, markets, &c., &c., as well as an original correspondence from all parts of the country. The miscellaneous department will receive special attention, and, in all respects, the effort will be made to establish the character of the National Republican as a

PAMILY NEWSPAPER

In politics, the paper will be Republican, sus-taining the incoming Administration of Mr. Lin colu, but disclaiming, however, any pretension to be the organ of the President elect.

There is no other Republican paper in the District of Columbia, or in the vicinity of it, and it is believed that recent events have opened to such a paper an important sphere of useful ef-fort. The time has come, when the actual ad-ministration of the Government upon Republican principles will explode the misrepresentations which have made those principles so distasteful

But it is not only here, and in this vicinity, that the projectors of the National Republican hope to make it useful. To the whole country they offer a journal which will discuss national politics from a national standpoint, and which will never be swerved from patriotic duty by any overpowering pressure of local interest.
